

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 26, 2026

Southwest Missouri Manufacturing Company's Products Recognized as Finalists in 2026 Coolest Things Made in Missouri Competition

STRAFFORD, MO – Amprod, LLC is thrilled to announce that two of its top products, the American Products AP Data enclosure and the Watson stainless steel process tank, have been selected as finalists in the prestigious 2026 Coolest Things Made in Missouri competition. This recognition highlights the innovative spirit and craftsmanship of Missouri manufacturers.

The Coolest Things Made in Missouri is an esteemed statewide competition celebrating the unique and high-quality products manufactured across the state. Previously known as the Coolest Things Made in the Ozarks, the competition has expanded in 2026 to include distinguished manufacturers from all corners of Missouri.

Tiffani Claussen, President/CEO of Amprod, LLC, expressed her pride in the recognition, stating, “We have an incredibly talented team of elite individuals that are the heart and soul of our operations. What an honor it is to have two of our products as finalists, all designed and handcrafted by talented individuals in southwest Missouri.”

With more than 7,500 manufacturers in Missouri, being named a finalist among 16 selected products is a significant achievement. This honor underscores the quality and innovation inherent in Amprod’s offerings and emphasizes their essential role in Missouri’s infrastructure and broader manufacturing ecosystem.

Claussen added, “These wins showcase our team’s dedication to innovation, quality craftsmanship, and manufacturing excellence. It’s a testament to the pride our team members take in designing and building telecommunications enclosures and stainless steel process tanks.”

The winner of the Coolest Things Made in Missouri 2026 competition will be announced during a live awards event scheduled for February 2026.

In the interim, Amprod extends heartfelt congratulations to its team for this well-deserved recognition. “This achievement reflects the hard work and dedication of everyone involved. We are proud to have such an amazing team of Missourians creating solutions that help our customers worldwide.”

About Amprod

Based in Strafford, MO, Amprod is the parent company to American Products, EnSight Solutions and Watson Metal Masters. Amprod is a member of Koch Enterprises, Inc.